ABSTRACT

This completely revised and updated edition of the bibliography of the same title, published by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Library in 1971, is a selective, partially annotated list of publications and periodical articles issued since 1970. In cooperation with HUD's Office of Policy Development and Research, the most useful and readily available studies and articles on the elderly and the handicapped have been chosen. Supplementing these entries, bibliographies grouped at the end of each section supply additional references. Addenda include those items received by the HUD Library too late to be included in the main body. Of particular importance is the series of hearings published in late 1978 by the House of Representatives' Select Committee on Aging. Taken together, they compose an up-to-date overview of the current situation of the elderly. (Author/MLF)

FOREWORD

This completely revised and updated edition of the bibliography of the same title, published by the HUD Library in 1971, is a selective, partially annotated list of publications and periodical articles issued since 1970.

In cooperation with HUD's Office of Policy Development and Research, we have chosen the most useful and readily available studies and articles on the elderly and the handicapped. Supplementing these entries, bibliographies grouped at the end of each section will supply additional references.

Addenda include those items received by the HUD Library too late to be included in the main body. Of particular importance is the series of hearings published in late 1978 by the House of Representatives' Select Committee on Aging. Taken together, they comprise an up-to-date overview of the current situation of the elderly.

In addition to the Congress, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, various agencies of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Transportation, and the Office of the President have concerned themselves with the growing needs of the ever-increasing number of elderly and handicapped citizens.

Most of the items listed are available in the HUD Library. Numbers in brackets following book citations are the Library's call numbers. However, HUD distributes only its own publications. For all others listed, please consult your local library, or order them from the publishers. Federal government publications may be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.
